Cuireann Comhlucht Forbartha na nDéise fáilte chroíúil roimh 'Dúchas agus Dóchas' go dtí an Sean Phobal. Déanann Dúchas agus Dóchas ceiliúradh ní hamháin ar thraidisiún amhránaíochta saibhir Chontae an Chláir ach ar thionchar na nDéise ar an dtraidisiún sin agus é ag nochtadh an t-seana nasc treibhe, fola, teanga, ceoil agus cultúir a mhaireann idir an dá phobal síos go dtí an lá atá inniu ann.

Comhlucht Forbartha na nDéise extends a warm welcome to 'Dúchas agus Dóchas' to an Sean Phobal in the heart of the Waterford Gaeltacht. Dúchas agus Dóchas is a celebration not only of the rich, hidden, Irish language song tradition of County Clare but also a celebration and revelation of the huge historical, blood, cultural, linguistic and musical links between the the two regions.

Beatha teanga í a labhairt beatha amhrán é a rá, snáth órga, ceolmhar, trí athbheochan amhránaíochta sa Chlár ó ré na bhfilí go dtí nuachumadóireacht an lae inniú, le scoth na gceoltóirí agus na n-amhránaithe. Líonann Dúchas agus Dóchas bearna i dtraidisiún na Mumhan le mórtas cine agus le haoibhneas ceoil, le dúchas agus le dóchas, ó shean-nós go dtín ár nósanna is ár nóisin nua ceolmhara féin!

A beautiful, bilingual songline celebrating a 350 year journey through the hidden Irish language song tradition of County Clare, from the last of the great bards to present day composers. Having begun with Diarmuid de Faoite's efforts to rediscover the hidden song tradition in Clare, an avalanche of song later he presents some of Clare's finest musicians and singers in an aural feast of song, music and story, a testament to the rich well of culture that exists in Ireland and an inspirational invitation to communities nationwide to rediscover, revive and reimagine their musical heritage.
With one eye to the past and a pair to the future, Dúchas agus Dóchas lights a bright path forward, steeped in tradition.
